El profesional de la información (published since 1992) is the leading scientific and professional journal in the Spanish speaking information, library and information technologies field.

We are the first Spanish language journal within this field to be indexed by the Science Citation Index (Thomson ISI), and Scopus (Elsevier), as well as another 27 databases and bibliographic services.

Full text materials - including the inserted adverts - are available on the EPI website at <http://www.elprofesionaldelainformacion.com> through MetaPress and Ebsco's Academic Search Complete.

1992-2007 is in open access - with the two most recent years embargoed.

Print run and Users

Normally, the print run is 2000 issues bimonthly. Most of our subscribers (60%) are in Spain, although there is also a high percentage in the Americas (southern USA, Argentina, Chile, Cuba, Mexico, Colombia, Peru and Brazil) as well as in Europe (UK, Holland, Germany, Italy, Portugal and France).

Subscribers include universities, research centres, government institutions, public libraries, consultancies, laboratories and private corporations.
